

Theme 2: Cherish What We Have

A friend in need is a friend indeed

The cat and his friends

Once upon a time, there was a cat. He was always mean to his friends. He never helped them.

One day, a hunter set a trap under a tree. Unluckily, the cat was caught in the trap and was tied up in the tree. “Help!” the cat yelled loudly. His friends saw him. The cat asked them to help him but his friend refused. The cat was very afraid.

At last, the cat’s mum saw him and saved him. The cat asked his mum, “Why my friends saw me but they didn’t help me?”

“It was because a friend in need is a friend indeed,” said his mum. “You shouldn’t be mean to your friends. You should help them and get on well with them.”

“Okay!” said the cat.

After that, the cat got on with his friends. He helped them with their homework and shared his toys with them. They were delighted.
